Fogging Machine Will Operate In Canyon Again Saturday Afternoon If Weather Is Fair: Open All Doors

Dr. Robert P. Jarrett, City Health Officer, has issued a warning that Canyon must put on a clean up campaign in order to eliminate dangers of disease in the city.

The DDT fogging machine from Amarillo will return to Canyon next Saturday afternoon, provided there is no high wind. Citizens are asked to have all windows and doors opened during the time the fogging machine is in operation in order to get the best results. Dr. Jarrett urges that all out-houses be opened so that the best results may be obtained from the fogging.

Dr. Jarrett calls attention to arrangements which are being made by the city to have all trash and debris hauled away from the alleys at once. At the same time the city has a mowing machine which will cover the town, in the alleys and vacant lots as rapidly as possible. But all citizens are urged to give full assistance and assist the city in every way possible in carrying on the clean up campaign.

Among the suggestions made by the City Health Officer are:

1. All weeds should be cut, raked and burned.
2. All livestock should be removed from the city if it is at all possible. If this is found to be absolutely impossible, the cow lots, chicken pens, etc., must be cleaned daily and sprayed with DDT.
3. All cans and buckets must be emptied and not allowed to collect water.

More Fish Will Be Placed In Buffalo Lake

The federal Fish Hatchery of Santa Rosa, N. M., will place several thousand fish in Buffalo Lake Thursday morning.

This is the first time in several years that a large quantity of small fish have been released in the Lake. In spite of the large number of fish caught in the Lake this year, it is reported that the Lake is well stocked, with indications that the fish population has not materially diminished during the season.

The greatest menace to small fish in the Lake is the large turtles. While many turtles have been killed during the season, the number in the Lake seems to increase.

The small fish will be released in the upper part of the Lake where there is plenty of feed and protection. As the fish grow they usually travel down toward the dam.

City Officials Call Upon People Of Canyon To Cut Weeds and Wipe Out the Breeding Places For Polio

The spread of polio has been so rapid in many sections of Texas that towns are called upon for clean up campaigns which will destroy the breeding places of disease germs.

With continued weekly rains, weeds are growing in every part of town. Weeds are the favored breeding places of insects and germs, and the only way to control disease is to eliminate weeds.

Mayor W. A. Warren says that the city has been called upon to cut weeds in alleys and upon vacant property. He calls attention to handicaps which the city must recognize in the fight against weeds.

The city has a mowing machine, and makes a small charge of mowing weeds upon vacant lots. But the city cannot mow these lots unless all posts, wire, tree stumps, rocks, etc. have been removed.

The city cannot mow within 18 inches or two feet of property lines or fences because of utility meters. When the mowing machine goes down an alley, it is up to the property owner to cut all weeds which have not been destroyed by the machine. The hoe is the only means of getting around meters.

With the rapid increase of polio, Mayor Warren urges all citizens of Canyon to take action immediately and cut the weeds which have grown rapidly during the past few weeks. Several towns have closed up for a day and cleaned up after polio hit in full force. Fortunately there have been no polio cases in Canyon this year, but with the spread of the disease, Canyon citizens may be the next victims of the dreaded disease.

While Canyon had an effective clean up campaign in the spring, weeds have grown so rapidly during the summer that all sections of town need a weed cutting campaign immediately.

Let's don't wait until polio strikes before getting busy and destroying the breeding places of the disease.

Paving of Road From Umbarger To Buffalo Lake

The Commissioners Court entered into an agreement Monday between the State Highway Commission and the Santa Fe Railroad for improving the railroad crossing at Umbarger, and paving the strip of road from Umbarger to Buffalo Lake.

The agreement with the railroad had been signed in Chicago and Amarillo, but goes to Austin for signatures of the State Highway Commission.

The road was hard surfaced with caliche after Buffalo Lake was completed, and was authorized as a farm-to-market road. Completion of the road will be of great service to thousands of picnickers who visit the Lake weekly.

County Commissioner Clarence Beckman has been working on the completion of the road for several months.

Amarillo Man Made Talk Regarding Rotary International

Spencer Baird was a delegate from the Amarillo Rotary Club to Rotary International, held at Rio in Brazil this spring.

He described his trip and the pleasures that were connected with such a trip. 840 Rotarians and members of their families traveled on the ship from New York to Rio. During the six days in port the ship was the hotel for the passengers. Both the President and President-elect of Rotary International were on the same ship. Several Rotary conferences were held during the cruise.

Rio spent $270,000 in entertaining the visitors. About two-thirds of the 10,000 delegates were from South American nations.

Rotarians from all nations mingled during the convention, and tried to feel at home, although communication was limited in many instances. Mr. Baird was impressed by many things he found in Brazil. He refused to take a critical attitude, realizing that all was not well in America.

Brazil is liberal with the working class. After 10 years employment with one firm, one man may be demoted. There are fewer of the middle class, and more of the poor class in Brazil than in America.

After being away on such a cruise and seeing a small part of the world, Mr. Baird stated that the Statue of Liberty looked better from the sea than it did as their ship was leaving harbor.

Visitors were: Dr. E. L. Henderson of Greenville, N. C.; J. E. Bowman, Earl Cavender, E. C. Wagner, Jack Allen, Arch Hunsley, all of Amarillo.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Coke Stevenson Is Well Prepared For Senate Job

Lyndon Johnson complained during the first primary that Coke Stevenson would not make a speech, but spent his time calculating and shaking hands with the voters.

Lyndon assumed that he was the only candidate in the race who had superior wisdom, and knew more about Washington affairs than all of the other candidates combined.

Coke went to Washington following the first primary to check up. It was probably unnecessary that he go to Washington to check up on his previous ideas about foreign affairs. Any Texan who has read with understanding knows a lot about foreign affairs, and what should be done about the problems confronting the nation. We are convinced that Texans are well prepared to handle all problems which confront them.

So far as Lyndon knowing more about Washington, D. C., than Coke Stevenson, is open to discussion. Coke has been around some in his life, and knows more about constitutional law than Lyndon Johnson, or any other person in Texas.

Now that the second primary campaign is underway, Lyndon complains that Coke is talking out of turn. He thinks that Coke should keep mum and allow him to do the talking. His position is ridiculous.

The Newsman happens to know a lot about Coke Stevenson. We were freshmen legislators together in Austin when the regular session of the legislature opened in 1929. He heard him make his freshman speech, and was impressed with his solid thinking. We sat across the aisle from Coke Stevenson through two regular and nine special sessions of the legislature.

We do not claim to be smarter than some folks, but not nearly so dumb as a lot of other folks; but we do claim that we know an intelligent man when we see one and hear him discuss points of law.

During those years a bill was never before the legislature that Coke Stevenson had not read and thoroughly digested.

He was the first member of the House to appear at the Capitol in the morning, and the last to leave at night. While there, he was busy, studying legislative affairs and conferring with those who were affected by pending legislation. Since we are no lawyer, it was hard sometimes to understand the meaning of measures, but Coke Stevenson was always ready to give a helping hand, and to kindly and sympathetically discuss the pending measures.

Well, Coke Stevenson went back to the House after two terms and served for two additional terms as Speaker. He was then elevated to the office of Lieutenant Governor where he served with dignity and frankness with all of the members.

When Governor O'Daniel was elected U. S. Senator, Coke Stevenson became Governor and served for a longer period than any other man in the history of the State of Texas.

Does all of this add up to the contention of Lyndon Johnson that Coke is unfit to be Senator because he has never served in Washington?

Lyndon may make his argument stick with a group of Texans who cannot forget the rubber stamp days when Roosevelt was supreme in Washington and Johnson was the Texas water carrier for the White House.

To the vast body of voters in Texas, Lyndon is bellowing up a rotten tree. They prefer the steady going Coke, who calculates before he acts, than to follow the man who has hopped from one political fence to another in a vain effort to always be on the popular side.

We will vote for Coke Stevenson on August 28.

The News force is working on the complimentary edition to President J. A. Hill, which will be published on August 26. Orders are being received for extra copies of this edition. We cannot urge too strongly that if you want extra copies, better come around now and sign up for this edition. Frankly, we consider this one of the best historical editions we have ever published. Dr. Hill has accomplished wonders when you go back 38 years and view the campus of 1948 in the light of 38 years of achievement.

The Southern Senators won a temporary fight against the anti-poll tax bill. Of course the Republicans were not interested in seeing the bill pass. It might be considered a victory for Truman, and that is the last thing that GOP is interested in.

BOYCE HOUSE
"Gives You Texas"

A classic newspaper story is the one about the telegraph editor of the Little Rock Democrat many years ago who was going through a long article with a pencil in his hand. A friend asked, "What are you doing?" He replied, "I'm editing the President's message." The friend exclaimed, "What! You, a $35-a-week newspaperman editing the message of the President of the United States?" But the other was undisturbed.

Democratic Party Is To Blame For Soaring Costs

Congress has refused to follow the advice of President Truman and pass his brand of legislation which he suggests might lower the cost of living.

All of us complain about the continued cost of living. We would like to see beef steak selling at 25c per pound—BUT there is not a single person who wants to see his own income decline. Sure, we want to see prices tumble, provided it is the price we pay for merchandise, and not the price that we get for our labor, or our goods. We are all just as selfish as we can be.

When will prices decline?

Not until all of us are ready to stand our share of the decline, and take less money, which will probably buy as much of the necessities of life as we are now getting for the same high bracket we now pay.

Since the President is talking about a roll back in prices, just where will he start, if he had the power to roll them back?

Would he establish his prices on pre-war days and demand that every one readjust prices to the days of 1939-40, or just along about that time before prices started soaring?

You will recall that the Democratic party had the chance of holding prices down, but it refused to do so. Oh, yes, Congress and Roosevelt passed a lot of fancy legislation to hold prices in line, and to keep industry from making a big crop of millionaires out of the war. Yes, we had OPA, and a lot of other federal snooters running at large.

When that was done, scores of honest Americans went to Washington and told Roosevelt and Congress that their plan would not work unless they put a ceiling on labor; a ceiling on raw materials; a ceiling on profits.

Was the advice heeded? No, indeed.

The Democratic President and rubber stamp Democratic Congress muffled the golden opportunity to hold prices in line. We are paying the penalty now.

Do you think that a Republican Congress is going to step in and do the bidding of a politically minded Democratic President just before election time? If you do, you simply do not know human nature. If anything is done by GOP, it will be after election. Truman and the Democratic party will suffer the consequences of the mistakes made in years past. And Truman was an influential member of the Senate at that time.

Frankly, we are fearful of a terrible jolt one of these days when the economic bottom will fall out. Perhaps it will not be overnight, as in 1929. But we must have some kind of readjustment, and millions of honest Americans will suffer as the result of readjusted prices.

Maybe we are all wet in this position, but it is an honest opinion.

Texas has a Belden poll. Two years ago this poll announced that Homer P. Rainey was as good as elected Governor; but Beauford Jester won. This year the Belden poll announced just before the first primary that Lyndon Johnson was top man; Coke Stevenson was far out in front. Suspicion has been aroused against the Belden poll. The Dallas News, one of the backers of the poll, has withdrawn its support and condemned the operators. The charge is made that either the poll is manipulated for the satisfaction of the operators, or the system used is entirely inadequate. The latter is probably the case. The Belden poll is centered in Austin. Taking a sampling vote in the heart of the political center of Texas is not sufficient. You will recall that a national magazine went out of business because of its blunder in forecasting a presidential election. So far the Gallup poll has been pretty accurate. It will fold up, like the others, when it makes serious mistakes.

Congress will likely adjourn before this reaches the readers. The special turned out just about as we suspected — nothing accomplished. We are of the opinion that Truman will suffer in the eyes of the people because of this political session. Truman thought that he was putting the Republicans over the political barrel when the session was called. It turned out different from what he expected. The fact is that GOP is still running its own affairs without taking orders from the Democratic occupant of the White House.

What rains! The farmers are missing the wheat crop, but look forward to a good 1948 crop!

He countered, "I'd edit the Sermon on the Mount if I found a split infinitive in it."

Well, that reminds me of the time that I "edited" the speech of a Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Several years ago, when the State Bar Association was meeting in Houston, I was assisting the association by acting in a public relations capacity. An Associate Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court was to speak and it was late in the afternoon that the copy of the address he was to make that night was delivered to me. (I was to furnish a condensed copy to the newspapers.)

In paying tribute to the vast size of Texas, he stated, "from Amarillo to Brownville and from El Paso to Shreveport."

With considerable nervousness, I called his room, got him on the phone and said that no disrespect was intended but that I had a suggestion to offer.

"You and I know, of course, that Shreveport is in Louisiana," I said, "but some of your listeners might not know that you know it. We usually express the idea, 'from El Paso to Texarkana.'"

In a very courteous tone, the Justice said, "Go ahead and change it."

And so that is how, though I have never "edited" a message of a President, I did "edit" a speech by a member of the United States Supreme Court.

Every Worker Has Active Interest in Social Security

"What is my stake in social security? Those words are becoming more and more important to every man, woman, and child who works for a living, because each has a constantly growing stake in the program." John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo social security office said today. "To the worker who approaches the age of 65, the thought that he will have some financial reserve to depend upon, a reserve he has worked to build up, is a very encouraging factor in planning for a retirement which will be slowly but surely forced upon him," Sanderson said.

"The entire program is built on the basic idea that a man who has devoted his life to production for society has a definite right to the freedom which comes from the knowledge that he and his family will have a regular money income. Even a modest sum, which comes regularly every month, looms large in importance as a means of helping to maintain a reasonable standard of living.

"The American worker seldom wants something for nothing. It is a source of pride and satisfaction to him to know that the social security benefits paid to him will come from the security trust fund which his contributions helped build. Social Security has established such a fund from the contributions of workers and employers in commerce and industry. Drawing on that fund is a right rather than a favor," Sanderson concluded.

The Social Security Administration will assist you in any way possible, to inform you of your rights under this program and assist you to apply for benefits. The office serving this area is located at the Post Office Building, Amarillo, Texas.

24 YEARS OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP AND PUBLIC SERVICE

We who live in the comfortable days of the Twentieth Century may do well to cherish and honor the memory of the vigorous servants of another day without whom we could not enjoy the blessings of our time. Among those noblemen of another day we must count the Circuit Rider of the churches.

They were "Prophets of the Long Trail," on horseback and by boat and by buggy, making their way along the bridle paths and the fresh trails of the frontier settlements, or down the streams along whose shores men had built their homes and their hamlets. Of one of them we have read that he journeyed some 270,000 miles through a long itinerant ministry.

These men were first and last God's men, committed to the work which they believed to be the will of God for them to do. They were "very sure of God" and counted themselves His messengers to the careless and the sinful and the needy. They carried Good News of divine grace and hope for lost men and women, and they spoke it wherever they could get a hearing; in private homes, in empty buildings of every sort, in the open fields, in the busy streets of the city. They asked only for people who would listen.

They were also lovers of their fellows, concerned for the present and for the eternal welfare of men. Many of them were well-educated men who brought into the distance places the news of the world and a careful interpretation of its meaning. They were all imbued with such love for human souls that they counted no sacrifice too great, if they might kindle in a man's heart a love for the Father God. They believed that inner riches were more to be desired than much fine gold. They carried books and Bibles and tracts for the hungry minds, they brought comfort and cheer to lonely spirits, but mainly they brought the Touch of God for the healing of souls.

Thank God then for these good servants of another day; may their memory stir each of us to self-forgetful service of men and of God.

sell of Canyon, were married in a double ring ceremony Saturday, August 7, at 8:00 o'clock by Lyle Bonner, minister of the Church of Christ.

The bride wore a blue street length dress with gray accessories. She was attended by her sister, Miss Mildred Gill of Dallas. Ross Russell, brother of the bridegroom, was his best man.

The bride and groom are both graduates of West Texas High School and have attended West Texas State. The bridegroom has recently returned from Germany. He served two years in the Army.

After a short trip to Colorado the couple will be at home in Canyon.

Both will attend West Texas State this fall.

EDGETOWN H. D. CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. C. H. STRATTON

The Edgetown Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. C. H. Stratton on Aug. 6, in a called meeting. The opening song was "The More We Get Together". After that the daily creed was read.

Mrs. John Stratton conducted a short business meeting.

Mrs. Stratton directed the demonstrations for the afternoon. She was assisted by the following members: Mrs. Ralph Forrester, sprinkling a shirt; Mrs. R. E. Gill, ironing a shirt; Mrs. Stratton, folding the shirt; Mrs. W. I. Wester, making a bed; Mrs. Stratton, setting a table the wrong way; Mrs. W. H. Sparks, setting a table the correct way; Mrs. M. E. Sargee, washing and drying the dishes in the correct way.

Mrs. Stratton led a round table discussion of work simplification.

The iron used for the shirt ironing was a new, modern, light weight iron that had been given to Mrs. Sargee on her birthday.

Chicken sandwiches, butter and bread, grape punch and angel food cake were served by the hostess to Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Sparks, Mrs. Sargee, Mrs. Wester, Mrs. Gill, Mrs. J. C. Dowd, Mrs. Jessie Reid, Mrs. Forrester, Mrs. Pennie Cox, Mrs. George Combs, Mrs. T. T. Fain, Mrs. C. W. Dunn and Mrs. M. C. DeGraffenreid.

The August picnic will be at the John Wright home Friday evening, August 13, at 7 o'clock.

PRISCILLA CLUB MEETS IN HOME OF MRS. PRESLEY

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. C. M. Presley was hostess to members of the Priscilla Club at her home, 2001 Fifth Avenue.

Summer flowers decorated the entertainment rooms.

At the social hour a salad course and coffee were served to Mrs. Hud Prichard, Mrs. Clyde McElroy, Mrs. A. K. Knott, Mrs. Ray McReynolds, Mrs. Dewey Foster, Mrs. Alfred Bellah, Mrs. Ernest Brown, Mrs. C. M. Dowlen, Mrs. S. B. Loudder, Mrs. Marvel Kirby and Mrs. J. Madison Daugherty.

President Truman is making political gains of a size that is giving mild concern to G.O.P. leaders. Republicans concern themselves, when the Truman popularity curve is rising, with the thought that Henry Wallace and his third party will make it impossible for Mr. Truman to carry enough states to win the election.

Senator Robert Taft, in Republican caucus, readily admits that Republicans were placed in an awkward position by the special session of Congress. By this maneuver, Democrats succeeded in spreading the idea Republicans were unwilling to do much about highest of living.

Mr. Hoffman and his assistants are going out of their way to see that Representative John Taber, head of the House Appropriations Committee, knows exactly how the Marshall Plan billions are being spent. Mr. Hoffman is looking ahead to appropriation hearings next winter.

Mr. Hoffman, as Marshall Plan Administrator, is using pressure in a diplomatic sort of way to induce the British Government not to socialize its steel industry. The privately owned steel industry in Britain is showing that country's most substantial production gains.

Thomas McCabe, Reserve Board Chairman, is discovering that Marriener Eccles, former Chairman who was demoted by President Truman, still manages to command a majority of the Board on policy issues. Mr. Eccles is a favored witness of Congress on inflation issues.

White House political advisers are cool to the idea of recalling Congress after Labor Day to deal at that time with inflation issues that are not dealt with by the special session of Congress.

Mr. Truman is being advised that the net of laws that Congress is enacting at the special session will be inflationary in effect, rather than deflationary, by adding to the easy money available for construction.

Difference between General Clay, U.S. boss in Germany, and Paul Hoffman, boss of the Marshall Plan, is over which comes first, Germany or the rest of Western Europe. Mr. Hoffman tends to give priority to the latter, General Clay to Germany.

Thelma Mercer Honored With Personal Shower

On Wednesday afternoon, August 4, the attractive home of Misses Carolyn and June Wimberly was the scene of a personal shower given by sorority sisters to honor Miss Thelma Gean Mercer, bride-elect of H. R. Fulton, Jr.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Wayne Thomas, Misses Ellen Sanders, Sybil Ann Gillis, Carolyn and June Wimberly.

Centering the white brocaded satin draped tea table was a silver sprinkler filler with pink asters representing "Shower". White tapers completed the centerpiece.

Miss Sybil Ann Gillis presided at the guest book and Miss Carolyn Wimberly poured punch.

Refreshments of mint punch, sandwiches, cakes, nuts and mints and miniature nosegay favors carried out pastel colors.

Joseph Stalin and the Russian Politburo intend to string along, keeping world affairs in a fluid state at least until 1949 on the theory that a change in U.S. Administration at that time would open the way to changes in the U. S. viewpoint. Russian leaders are not thinking in terms of war at this time.

Life is half spent before we know what it is.—George Herbert.

Gen. Lucius Clay, U. S. commander in Germany, issued orders for a counterblockade against Russia in Germany without first consulting with the Department of State. General Clay has tended to act on his own in dealing with the Russians and then to tell the diplomats later.

Rose Bush Owner Frightens Thief With Homemade Alarm

PHILADELPHIA.—A rose is a rose and by any other name would smell as sweet.

But this is a story about a rose that not only smelled sweet but sounded pretty.

Walter Hoff awoke one day to find three of his large and expensive rose bushes missing.

When he regained his composure he chained wires to the roots of six remaining bushes and attached the wires to a basement switch. A tug of the bush would ring a bell.

For six nights Hoff slept undisturbed.

Then early one morning the rose bell rang.

Up jumped Hoff, up went his window and away ran the thief, spade in hand.

Cat Walks 420 Miles Only To Find Its Master Gone

LEOMINSTER, MASS.—Fluffy, a one-year-old Angora cat, arrived home after apparently walking 420 miles from Buffalo, N. Y., only to find her master gone.

Ben Hansberry sold his house here and set out by trailer with his family for Moses Lake, Wash.

Fluffy went sight-seeing during a one-night stopover in Buffalo. When she didn't return the next day, the Hansberrys went on their way.

The cat was weak when she reached here; her fine fur coat matted, her claws worn to the pad.

Neighbors took her to an animal hospital, where she is reported making a good recovery. She will be flown to the Hansberrys later.

Individual members of Congress often become alarmed by public reaction, shown in a flood of letters, to high prices of meat and to the rising cost of living. G.O.P. leadership is concerned over the prospect that the party may lose a number of seats in the next Congress that it had considered secure. Mr. Truman is credited with complicating their problem.

Per se, a Latin expression, means "by itself."

Bigger Popcorn Explosion Makes Bang-Up Product

AMES, IOWA.—Science is putting a bigger pop in popcorn to make it fluffier and less crunchy.

Not long ago popcorn that exploded into 24 times its original size was considered good. Now good popcorn expands 28 to 30 times in volume.

Some varieties developed by Dr. J. C. Eldredge and associates at the agricultural experiment station of Iowa State college have expanded 34 times in tests. This big an explosion doesn't always occur, and size 34 popcorn isn't available for popcorn growers. But it may come along in time.

The bigger the explosion, the bigger, fluffier and tenderer the pieces of popped corn, Dr. Eldredge said.

People like it better, even though they get less popcorn to a bag.

Popcorn vendors like it better, too, because it takes less corn to draw as much money in sales.

Emphasize Explosions

For years the emphasis in plant breeding has been to get the bigger explosions. The job is difficult, because the corn also must give high yields, stand up well and be suitable for machine harvesting.

Only certain kinds of corn pop well. Moisture in the kernel turns to steam, and the kernel explodes. The steam pressure has to be generated quickly enough to produce a sudden expansion.

It has been thought that the hull acted like a bomb cover, holding in the steam for a time. But this doesn't seem to be the answer. The hulls can be damaged and the corn will still pop. The popping may be due to the structure of the millions of starch grains in the kernel, Dr. Eldredge said.

Research since 1928 here in the biggest popcorn-growing state shows some of the essentials for good popping. The temperature of the popper should be between 450 and 500 degrees. One part of oil should be used for every five parts of corn. Most important, the moisture content of the corn should be about 13 to 14 per cent.

Popcorn Production

The United States produces about 150 million pounds of popcorn a year on the average and Iowa grows about one-third of it.

About half of the crop is sold to motion-picture theater chains and finds its way into vending machines. Wholesale grocery firms take 25 per cent, selling to grocery stores and popcorn stands. Many of the stands buy directly from local growers. The other 25 per cent is used by makers of popcorn confections coated with molasses, syrup or cheese.

This year the Iowa station is testing nearly 1,200 different crosses or trial combinations of different lines of popcorn. Each year samples are popped and measured for volume, taste and tenderness. The tests supply snowy mountains of popcorn which are sold on the Iowa State campus for the benefit of the Agronomy club, the student section of the American Society of Agronomy.

Escaped Bull Stages Classy Rodeo for Busy Detroiters

DETROIT.—A bull staged a 40-minute rodeo all its own in Detroit's packinghouse district, hooking one man in the seat of the pants and terrorizing a woman.

A shot from a deer rifle finally ended it.

The bull broke out of a pen and made a dash for busy Michigan avenue. A few feet behind came George Alexander, chasing the animal in a trailer-truck.

On a corner the bull cornered a woman and tore her dress before Alexander and his truck chased him away. The woman wasn't hurt except for the fright.

Charging into the yard of a porcelain company, the bull hooked the seat of a workman's pants and tossed him over a light truck. The workman was shaken but otherwise unhurt.

Then Edward Frass, an employee, drew a bead and put a bullet through the bull's head.

German Family in Berlin Bundles Up With Alligator

BERLIN.—In the Reichelt family, they sleep three in a bed—Poppa Reichelt, Mamma Reichelt and Max, who happens to be an alligator.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Reichelt have other pets—dogs, cats, snakes, rabbits and monkeys—but it is only the six foot, 150-pound alligator that sleeps with them every night.

The 25-year-old Max is singled out for this privilege because otherwise, say his owners, he would have died of the cold.

"He is a most reliable alligator," says Reichelt. "He's completely clean. He never snores, coughs or makes other noises."

At night, Reichelt relaxes in his easy chair with Max on his lap. Poppa Reichelt smokes a pipe. Max chews a pipe. Max needs a new pipe every month.

Max once went after another member of the household, a hen named Minna.

But that mother of eight squawked so loudly and pecked so fiercely the alligator lost heart.

Graphite, used in lead pencils, is also a lubricant.

Air Bubbles Deaden Underwater Noises

NEW YORK.—Streams of bubbles, rising something like those in a carbonated drink, are good ear-plugs against underwater noise.

They act like an insulating screen, deadening a large amount of the noise, Donald P. Loe and William Fred Arndt have reported in the Journal of the Acoustical Society of America.

The bubble screen, they said, proved effective at Pearl Harbor in insulating the entrance to a repair dock against much underwater noise coming from other parts of the harbor.

The repair dock was used as a test area to measure the amount of noise made by machinery and operation of the submarines. It was vital to quiet down the United States subs to make it harder for the Japanese to hear them. Underwater noises from the other ships in the harbor interfered with such tests.

Loye and Arndt, then with the United States navy underwater sound laboratory, said the air-bubble screen, unlike any kind of gate, didn't have to be opened or closed to allow a sub to enter or leave the dock.

The first system for the bubble-making used a pipe with small drilled holes, with compressed air pumped into the pipe. But this system itself was noisy.

The best arrangement, they said, was a pipe with many small holes, with the pipe covered with a loose-fitting leatheroid sock. This sock had a few rows of holes made by a sewing machine needle. Air coming through the tiny holes made little noise, and the bubble screen had a sound insulation effect of 24 decibels.

Defendant Drinks Only Two Bottles of Beer But—

OMAHA, NEB.—A young man charged with drunkenness shook his head in bewilderment before Judge Perry Wheeler in municipal court.

"Judge," he said, "I don't know what happened. It just hit me all of a sudden. I had two bottles of beer."

"Don't kid me," the judge scoffed. "Two bottles of beer wouldn't knock out anyone."

"These were half-gallon bottles, Judge," the defendant replied.

The judge fined him $2.50.

Indian Manufacturer Fails To Spend Four Million in U. S.

NEW YORK.—K. N. Modi, wealthy Indian manufacturer, arrived in America with four million dollars in gold to spend in 30 days flat for industrial equipment.

He couldn't get what he wanted in England, so he came to America for action. He got it. And he spent at the rate of $46.29 a minute night and day.

But he had to admit failure. He is flying back to his home in Modinagar, India, with two million dollars unspent.

"However," he added brightly, "I'm going to spend the rest from India on American equipment as soon as I can close the deals."

Most of the money was spent on machinery for making margarine, textiles and caustic soda and equipment for a solvent extraction plant.

Modi smothered his disappointment over being unable to spend fast enough with admiration for efficient American business methods.

"And there were hundreds of letters from people wanting to help me spend my money," he said. "I kept two stenographers busy just answering letters. Every one I answered."

Texans Plan to Construct World's Tallest Building

HOUSTON, TEX.—Houston may be on its way to boasting the world's tallest building, taller by 101 feet than New York's Empire State building.

Plans are being considered by the United Building Supply Company, for erecting a 140-story structure, says Murel Goodell, general manager.

The out-scrappingest skyscraper of them all would cost "in the neighborhood of 25 million dollars," Goodell said.

Floor space, Goodell said, would be about 1,500,000 square feet. The building would stand one foot taller than the unfinished Palace of the Soviets in Moscow.

Fire Fan, 8, Hurdled in Air By Water Stream From Hose

MEDFORD, MASS.—A small boy watching a fire at 17-19 Lawrence road was seriously hurt when a fire hose slipped off a hydrant and a powerful stream of water struck him in the chest, literally lifting him off his feet and hurling him under a parked car on the other side of the street.

Dana Whittemore, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger D. Whittemore of 133 Ashcroft road, was at Lawrence Memorial hospital with a brain concussion and a possible skull fracture.

Audubon Society Reports No Eaglets in Famous Nest

LANCASTER, PA.—Here's a housing note for the bird world. The nest of the lordly American bald eagle in Lancaster county is vacant.

The National Audubon society reports that for the first time since 1936 there are no eaglets in the famous Mt. Johnson Island aerie below Lancaster in the Susquehanna river.

Dr. Herbert H. Beck, of Lancaster, custodian of the society's sanctuary, said normally two and possibly three young eagles would be taking off about now for their first flight.

He figures either Mother Baldy died of natural causes or she was shot by a hunter who didn't know or didn't care that the national bird is under federal protection.

It would have to be mama, Dr. Beck said, for if anything happened to Papa Baldy another male would have moved in immediately.

Eagles, he added, live by "baronial rights," and once they select a nest they never use another, nor permit any other birds to settle within their chosen domain.

New OLIVER "77" New No. 22 Mower

You can make short work of all cutting jobs with these two new Oliver units.

The new 6-cylinder "77" with its six forward speeds gives you almost any ground travel speed and drawbar pull combination you want—at peak engine efficiency.

Take the new direct drive power take-off of the "77"—what could save more time in the hayfield? And, think how these advanced features increase tractor utility and cut down operating costs: choice of three new engines, (1) for gasoline, (2) for tractor fuel, and (3) a diesel to be available later... metered oil system... Oil Miser transmission case... battery ignition... choice of interchangeable cast iron or stamped steel wheels and basic interchangeability of mounted tools with all other new Row Crop models.

The new No. 22 Mower rides on two rubber-tired caster wheels... is protected from damage by a safety spring release. The sickle bar is close to the rear tractor wheel, making it easier to get around square corners. A dust-tight, oil-bath chain-drive transmission with a safety slip-clutch runs the pitman.

Musical Numbers Soothe Shoppers In Food Stores

CHICAGO.—Mrs. Brown wore an angry frown as she stormed into her neighborhood food store. It had been such a frustrating day. But she hadn't stomped far along the aisle before she slowed to the rhythm of soft music wafting gently through the store.

The lady was undergoing some of the latest "shopping therapy" which chain food stores are practicing on their customers to ease the parting of the dollars.

Seeking out the store manager, Mrs. Brown said: "You know, Mr. Allen, I've been mad all day. One thing after another went wrong. But I walked in here and that lovely music hit me and now—well."

She left smiling, arms piled high with purchases.

Oliver F. Johnson recalled the experience as an example of what music therapy in stores can do. His company is piping music into 110 food stores now "and we've not had a complaint yet," he said.

Other thoughts and ideas have been given to the housewife's comfort and enjoyment of shopping.

Grand Openings

New food stores have openings a la Hollywood. City officials and community leaders turn out for the ribbon-cutting ceremony. Helium balloons soar skyward. There may even be a neighborhood "queen" selected—average age about four years.

They're called "Stores of Tomorrow—Today." Doors open automatically as a customer approaches, operated by an "electric eye."

Once inside, tender concern for the housewife continues. If she has Junior along she can choose a shopping cart with a rumble seat attached for him to occupy. He's happy for the ride. She's happy not to have to corral him frequently in the aisles. The manager is happy not to have so much work to do in restoring order to the shelves.

Free Garnishings

In some meat departments the shopper gets a free sprig of parsley with each purchase to dress up the platter at home.

Another new "trick" is the "express" checkout counter for the person with only a few purchases. She doesn't have to wait impatiently in a line of women with heaped-up carts and baskets. For the latter group of shoppers there are drinking fountains.

Along with the soft music, Johnson said, go 20-second "gentle reminder" spot announcements every four minutes, followed by a short "penetration" pause. Only items on the store's shelves are mentioned.

For a half hour before and after shopping hours, the loudspeakers carry a livelier music for the benefit of the employees—and without ads.

Beavers Build Dams for City But Fail to Follow Plans

ST. HELENS, ORE. — The city water department fired its four beavers after a year's employment, and said from now on it would hire strictly human help.

The beavers did almost everything that was hoped for. They built dams in the city watershed; they charged no salaries; they worked longer hours than any human would.

But—they simply wouldn't follow the city's engineering plans.

A year ago St. Helens turned the beavers loose on Milton creek. It expected them to build dams, impounding water to be used during the dry season.

They did build dams, too. But they built them all in the wrong places.

Instead of helping to store water, the beavers diverted small springs which had been flowing into the reservoir.

No matter how often men followed the beavers around and destroyed their dams, the animals put them right back again—in the wrong place.

Federal Bank Examiner Pleads Guilty to Robbery Charge

POCATELLO, IDAHO.—A federal bank examiner, who turned holdup man for two hours and was caught because he lisped, pleaded guilty to a bank robbery.

Rudolph D. De Packh, who said he had been connected with banks for many years, held up the First National bank at Grace Idaho, and escaped with $3,860.

The bank was one which he had visited at least four times in 18 months as a federal examiner. Alvin Whitehead, cashier and one of three employees locked in a vault for an hour and a half, recognized De Packh by his lisp and despite his disguise of coveralls and dark glasses.

"I know federal laws as well as anyone," said De Packh, "I'm better off if I plead guilty."

He said he almost took enough to settle some Nevada gambling debts and a $500 deficit which he said he had at an Elko, Nev., bank.

"Section 1-c. Provided, however, the terms of this Resolution shall not be effective unless House Joint Resolution No. 24 is voted by the people and in no event shall this Resolution go into effect until January 1, 1951."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the date fixed by law for the General Election in November, A. D. 1948, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon the following words:

In counties and other subdivisions using voting machines, the above provision for voting for and against this Constitutional Amendment shall be placed on said machine and each voter shall vote on such machine for or against the Constitutional Amendment.

Wayside News

Sunday was Rev. Unruh's regular day with us.

No one is suffering for rain in this part of the country. Volunteer wheat is up and the row crops, gardens and yards are all flourishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Franklin arrived at the parental W. R. Franklin home last Monday from Dayton, Ohio, where they both have good jobs. They are on their honeymoon trip and will visit his sister and family in Colorado as they return home.

Sudy Franklin is visiting her grand mother, Mrs. W. R. Franklin, while W. R. is vacationing in cool Colorado, also visiting his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Fryburger of Paonia, Colo.

Mrs. J. R. Stockett underwent a major surgery at the Tulia hospital last Thursday.

Our community was saddened by the death of another old timer, J. H. O'Neal of Tulia, who died Friday and was buried Sunday. He was well known in this community as he and his family formerly lived here. His wife has been dead for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Malone and Tom of Amarillo visited in the J. R. Stockett home.

Elaine Fisher has gone with friends on a vacation to California.

Guests Sunday in the W. R. Franklin home were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Franklin of Dayton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Franklin and children of near Amarillo; Miss Effie Blanche Walker of Portales, N. M.; Mrs. Bonnie Sluder and children of Happy; Mr. and Mrs. Willie Modisette and son, Royce Tu; and Mrs. E. A. Franklin of Wayside.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hutton have lately purchased a home in Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Fisher and girls visited in the J. R. Stockett home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Fannie Stevens and son Clifford were Tulia callers last of the week.

Kirsky Newsom is visiting relatives in South Texas.

Harvey Newsom and Neta Ann, and Melton McGehee were Tulia callers Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Mahler and Tom are visiting and vacationing in North Dakota.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for the many expressions of sympathy and encouragement in the loss of our wife and mother, Tom Gerald, Sons and families.

Lieut. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, U. S. Ambassador to Russia, recommended that U.S. withdraw from Berlin, except for token military forces, at the time the plan for rebuilding Western Germany was announced, on the ground that the position in Berlin then would be untenable. General Smith, however, was overruled by General Clay, who has shaped U. S. German policy.

Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia can't count on a split between Premier Stalin and top members of the Politburo. Best Evidence that Mr. Stalin and his aides are determined to discipline Tito.

Remember Him?

Reviving an old American custom, Milton H. Van Noland, 21-year-old veteran, perches atop a 50-foot flagpole in San Francisco, and vows he'll stay there until he breaks the 49-day world record for flagpole sitters. A local used car dealer is betting him $1000 he won't.

Umbarger News

Remember our Church festival Sunday, Aug. 15. Everybody welcome. Noon meal 12 o'clock. Evening meal at 5 o'clock. Baseball game, Nazareth and Umbarger starting at 2 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Buecker and family and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bracht visited Sunday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Westhoff.

Those exchanging visits Sunday were Barbara Beef with Marcella Prizlas, Helena Westhoff with Betty Higgins, Sadie Higgins with Alice Westhoff, Rita Westhoff with Pauline Higgins.

Umbarger League played Plainview Sunday.

Many people from Umbarger attended the Happy picnic Sunday. Donald Woods from Ohio is visiting in the home of Mrs. Alene Lindemann.

George Marshall, U.S. Secretary of State, when Chief of Staff during the war, always stood out against acceding to Russian demands that Russian leaders be included on the Combined Chiefs of Staff who ran the war in the West. In wartime, Russians were so suspicious of their allies that they always balked at giving so much as information concerning general disposition of troops.

Republican leaders in Congress are indicating privately that Thomas Dewey if elected President, will have a honeymoon period in which he will find Congress ready to accept his ideas. However, the point is made that after his honeymoon, he will find it necessary to co-operate with Congress, not to try to dictate to it.

Russian Money Buys Nothing As U. S. Cash

In mid-July the Soviet government reduced the prices of some types of goods sold in its state-owned stores. And that provides an interesting commentary on living standards under a system in which the state controls everything, and has no competition.

The average Russian industrial worker earns 500 rubles a month. A bicycle, under the new price, will cost him 1,120 rubles—more than his entire income for two months' labor. A midsize automobile will cost 9,000 rubles. As a New York Times account sums it up, "The average Soviet industrial worker . . . must work two and a half hours to earn enough rubles to buy a bottle of beer, more than a month to buy a radio set and nearly eight weeks to buy a sewing machine."

There is an example of communist abundance. By contrast, the American worker, even in these days of inflation, buys each day foods and goods which would seem the wildest luxury in Russia.

What makes that possible? First of all, every American producer must hold costs to a minimum if he is to survive the competition. Secondly, the same thing is true of the stores where we buy our goods. Whether we patronize an independent or a chain, another store down the block or in the next town is aggressively competing for our business, and is trying to offer better quality, a lower price, a wider selection, or some other inducement. In a nation where the government owns the factories and the stores, no inducement is necessary.

Every store window in America, as a matter of fact, is an argument for the free enterprise system of doing things.

Descending a flight of stairs in a large department store was a portly gentleman. About midway, he lost his footing and collided with another patron, the momentum carrying both to the next landing. The fat man lay prone, while the victim of the mishap, still befuddled, sat astraddle of him. Raising his head, the corpulent one said politely, "Sorry, chum, but this is as far as I go."—J. E. Hadosky in The Woman.

There are three hours difference between New York and California time.

Robbery differs from larceny in that force of fear is employed in the former.

From equator to equator the diameter of the earth is greater than from pole to pole.

France owns more square miles in Africa than any other European nation.

Socialism Fails To Produce Coal in British Mines

According to Brigadier General Wade H. Hayes, managing director of a large Canadian electric company, operation of Britain's socialized coal mines "is costing the state 40,000,000 pounds a year more than it used to cost the companies, and there is not a scrap of evidence that the nation is getting any increased benefit. On the contrary, coal production is less, quality infinitely poorer, and the cost to consumers much higher. The Socialists promised exactly the opposite."

Britain's failure to produce an adequate tonnage of coal, in the face of all the grandiose claims made by the Labor Government when it was advocating socialization, has been a basic cause of Europe's postwar economic difficulties. It is a perfect example of the fact that regimentation, with all its red-tape and its discouragement of initiative, always does a poorer job than free enterprise. When politics comes in the door, efficiency goes out the window. That has been demonstrated since time began.

The American coal industry provides an interesting comparison with England's. Here free enterprise has made it possible for the American miner to produce several times as much coal per day as his British counterpart—and that has given the miner an income and standard of living that would seem unbelievable abroad. American coal production has been sufficient for our own great needs, and at the same time has made possible large exports to Europe. Coal of all grades and qualities is available to consumers. And the price is low when consideration is made for the extremely heavy costs of running the industry today.

Anyone who finds merit in socialism should compare the coal industries here and in England—and then think again.

STANDING ROOM ONLY

In the course of one of his lecture trips, Mark Twain arrived at a small town. Before dinner he went to a barber shop to be shaved.

"You are a stranger?" asked the barber.

"Yes," Mark Twain replied. "This is the first time I've been here."

"You chose a good time to come," the barber continued. "Mark Twain is going to read and lecture tonight. You'll go, I suppose."

"Oh, I guess so."

"Have you bought your ticket?"

"Not yet."

"But everything is sold out. You'll have to stand."

"How very annoying!" Mark Twain said with a sigh. "I never saw such luck! I always have to stand when that fellow lectures."

Keahey-Lehnick Double Ring Rites Read in Home Service in Canadian

Canadian, Texas (Special to the News): In a beautiful home ceremony Sunday afternoon, Miss Shirley Keahey, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Keahey, was united in marriage to Mr. Curtis Lehnick, son of Mrs. Leatha Lehnick of Canyon.

The Reverend Fern A. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist Church officiated at the three o'clock ceremony in the home of the bride's parents. The impressive double ring ceremony was read before an improvised altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and fern.

Miss Beulah Owens, a classmate of the bride, was maid of honor and Edward Lehnick was his brother's best man. Mr. Keahey gave the bride away.

Mrs. W. W. Fewelling played appropriate selections on the piano during the ceremony.

The bride was lovely in a street length gown of blue butcher linen with gold accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with gardenias and showered with white satin streamers. For something old, she wore a lavalier which had belonged to the bridegroom's maternal grandmother. The something blue was a blue bow on her petticoat and something borrowed was a white linen handkerchief belonging to Mrs. J. W. Voyles. There was also a lucky sixpence in her shoe.

Mrs. Keahey, mother of the bride, wore a black crepe dress and a corsage of red rose buds. Mrs. Lehnick, mother of the bridegroom, wore a black faille and a red rose bud corsage.

Besides members of the immediate families and the wedding party guests included Betty Hale, Mary Cook of Higgins; Elmer Ward, Edwin Ward and Fay Fullerton of Happy.

After the bride and groom had cut the first slice of wedding cake, cake and punch were served. Laid with a lace cloth, the serving table was centered with seasonal flowers and lighted candles. Mary Cook served the cake and Betty Hale presided at the punch bowl.

For going away, the bride wore a black summer weight wool dress with gold accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

After a brief vacation in Colorado, the couple will make their home in Canyon.

Out of town relatives attending the wedding were: Mrs. Leatha Lehnick and Edward from Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Ned Love and sons, Roy Carroll and Gary Michael of Tulsa; and Ray Fullerton of Happy.

More Than Six Million Persons on Social Security

John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Administration office, has announced that more than six million persons are receiving cash payments under the several provisions of the Social Security Act. It was just 13 years ago, on August 10, 1935, that President Roosevelt signed this Act into law.

This law, which was designed to provide a measure of financial security to the people of the nation, was considered by President Roosevelt as one of the outstanding achievements of his administration. Improvements and extension were made by amendments in 1939 and again in 1946. Further improvements have been considered by each succeeding session of Congress.

This law consists of four main parts:

1. A Federal system of retirement and survivors insurance for workers and their families—based on employer-employee contributions.
2. A Federal-State plan for payments to the needy aged, needy blind, and dependent children.
3. A Federal-State plan for providing for the payment of unemployment benefits to unemployed workers who lose their jobs through no fault of their own.
4. Federal aid to the States for maternal and child health, public health, and vocational rehabilitation.

Free coinage of silver was the main issue in the presidential election of 1896.

60 Deaths Result of Appendicitis In Texas in 5 Months

Sixty Texans died as the result of appendicitis during the first five months of 1948, according to figures released by the Texas State Department of Health.

"This figure does not appear large when compared to the deaths from cancer, tuberculosis, and heart disease," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer said, "but with the knowledge that these sixty Texans died needlessly, the figure is tragically high."

More than anything else, Dr. Cox said he would attribute fatality in appendicitis to the complacent attitude of the people concerning the disease. It is not put in its "proper perspective". Too often, the Health Officer said, people have the vain hope that the prolonged pain in their stomach will "wear off". He cautioned that the stomach ache which lasts more than three or four hours should be considered a serious matter.

Appendicitis killed 60,000 people in the United States and Canada last year, Dr. Cox said. He warned that young adults are especially susceptible to attacks, and that appendicitis is a leading cause of death among children and adolescents.

"Operative techniques have been improved to the extent that an unruptured appendix can be removed with great safety," Dr. Cox said. "It is therefore apparent that the negligence in appendicitis rests with the patient who fails to seek prompt medical attention."

He said it was imperative that the patient lie quiet until the doctor comes as moving about disturbs the inflamed parts. He strongly urged against taking laxatives in cases of suspected appendicitis.

Magician Here In Monday Night Lyceum Program

The only Magician and Mentalist to play the big Civic Opera House, the Orchestra Hall, and the Shubert Harris Theatre, in Chicago — all within nine months to capacity audiences, and by popular demand was returned to the Orchestra Hall the following season, was Dr. Harlan Tarbell, world famous Magician and Master of Eyeless Vision, who is bringing his amazing "Miracles of Magic" and "Mysteries of the Mind" to West Texas State, Monday, August 16.

In fact no concert artist or theatrical star has achieved this record. The Chicago dramatic critics raved over Tarbell's shows. Claudia Cassidy of the Chicago Tribune said, "It was a remarkable show that roamed the world of magic. Eyeless Vision was amazing." Ashton Stevens of the Chicago Herald-American said, "The hand may be quicker than the eye, and the tongue quicker than the hand, but what is it of Tarbell's that is quicker and subtler than either? Eyeless Vision is a miracle." Albert Goldberg of the Chicago Tribune wrote, "If ever the normal human intelligence felt thwarted, frustrated and wholly infantile in scope, it is at one of Tarbell's fantastic seances. Dr. Tarbell takes you by the hand and gently, by one of the most perfect crescendos ever devised by human devilry, discloses step by step the appalling extent of your mental incompetence."

From coast to coast the dramatic critics rave about Tarbell for as Lonsdale, dramatic critic of the Los Angeles Examiner said, "Tarbell performs the superb-miracle of making miracles out of the same things that magicians make tricks." You will want to see and hear this amazing teacher and counselor of magicians the world over, for Tarbell is the author of the famous Tarbell Course in Magic, an encyclopedia of mystery in five volumes; and the creator of over two hundred original mysteries of magic.

This program will be given at 8:00 p.m. in the Administration Building Auditorium on next Monday, Aug. 16.

Marshall Formby Starts New Radio Station at Hereford

Hereford's Radio Station, KPAN is now on the air, operating at 860 kilocycles. Programs will be heard each day from sun up to sun down, according to Manager Marshall Formby. Program time in August is from 6:15 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. KPAN has a power of 250 watts, and has a tower 270 feet high. More than eight miles of copper wire were plowed into the ground near the tower. Six newscasts daily are given over the station, which has a United Press wire service direct from Amarillo, Dallas, and St. Louis.

Formby announced the following as being associated with KPAN: H. W. Blymiller, Commercial Manager and Program Director; Clint Formby, chief announcer; Rea Bowman, chief engineer and announcer; Faye Bowman, script writer; and Mrs. Elmer Patterson, reporter. Formby pointed out that the 860 spot was almost in the middle of the dial and enabled KPAN to be heard over a large territory.

Harney Rogers was taken to Nebel Hospital Thursday, quite ill; but he was able to come home Saturday morning.

The Wesley reunion at McKinney State Park, Lubbock, on July 31 and August 1 was well attended this year. Wesleys from Mississippi to California were present for the occasion. 187 Wesleys and Wesley kin registered for Barbecue plates Sunday. A lot of cots and beds were spread on the grass Saturday night and a number were sleeping inside when it rained around 2 o'clock Sunday morning. There was a mad scramble for cover inside cars and the buildings. All managed to find shelter and kept from getting wet. Election of officers resulted in Earl Wesley of Happy being elected president; Virgil Wesley of Breckenridge, vice president; Mrs. Othell Wesley Whitson of Littlefield, secretary treasurer. Various committees were appointed by these elected officers. Reading of the minutes of last year revealed that 71 were present. That compared with the 187 present this year helps to explain why we are proud of our organization. Saturday a bountiful feast of fried chicken, baked ham, roast, potato salad, pickles, pie and cake with lots of other goodies were served at noon and the evening meal. Sunday morning scrambled eggs and bacon were cooked in the kitchen and butter, jellies and bread were served in the spacious dining room. There was room for all and many more. You who missed this fine gathering missed a treat. We hope to double again next year as it is such an enjoyable occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hardy of Texas City came up to spend a few days in the John McGehee home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wesley, Mrs. Era Gray, Mrs. Cleo Brown and Miss Lucy Wesley from Mississippi all came up from Lubbock and visited from Sunday evening until Tuesday morning with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hext, Mr. and Mrs. Elzo Guest, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wesley and the J. W. Wesleys.

There will be no baccalaureate sermon this summer, but Dr. J. A. Hill, retiring president of West Texas State, will speak for commencement.

The flustered woman shopper, her arms full of bundles, approached the floorwalker. "I'm looking for my husband," she said in anguished tone. "I was to have met him here two hours ago. Breakfast Honors Maude Cuenod

Miss Maude Cuenod, of the faculty of the University of Louisiana at Baton Rouge, was the guest of honor at an informal breakfast at the College Cafeteria last Saturday morning. Miss Cuenod, who was to be in town only a short time, visited with twenty-two of her friends on this occasion, which was arranged by Dr. and Mrs. Lee Johnson.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Johnson, President and Mrs. J. A. Hill, Miss Edna Graham, Miss Marion Miller, Miss Anita Goodrich, Miss Mildred Tietz, Miss Hatfield M. Anderson, Miss Linnie Babston, Miss Bertie Mae Williams, Miss Nola Belle Welch, Miss Gusie Chesnut, Miss Ima Barlow, Miss Matilda Gaume, Miss Katie McCluney, Mrs. Luther Lawless, Mrs. Alexander Mack, Mrs. T. V. Reeves, Mr. Tom Langston, and Mr. W. F. Haggard.

Two trucks met on a country road just wide enough for one. Truck driver No. 1, a scrawny, frail little man, leaned out of his cab. "Turn out, you," he shouted. "If ya don't I'll do to you what I did to the last guy who wouldn't turn out for me."

Two-hundred-pound, muscular driver No. 2, not caring to have trouble, pulled out. But as the other truck rumbled by, he yelled: What'd ya do to that other guy?" "Turned out for him," said No. 1.

The chorus girl was telling the other girls in the dressing-room about her birthday party.

"You should have seen the cake," she told her companions. "It was marvelous. There were seventeen candles on it—one for each year."

There was a disbelieving silence for a moment or two, then her best friend smiled.

"Seventeen candles, eh?" she purred. "What did you do—burn them at both ends?"

The late John Barrymore walked into a lounge after the show and found himself in the ladies' lounge by accident. An indignant woman came up to him and said, "This is for ladies!"

Barrymore bowed gallantly and replied, "So am I!"

Timid Aunt: "Do you ever worry about losing control of the auto?"

Nephew: "I'll say I do. I'm three installments behind. — Winnipeg Tribune.

Prairie State Farmers Fear New Dust Bowl

DALLAS, TEX.—Out in the prairie states farmers have planted more than 300 million trees in 15 years. These are the states where settlers once complained there was nothing but a barbed wire fence to break mile-a-minute winds from the North Pole.

Now, says Louis P. Merrill, regional soil conservation director for Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma, the interest in tree wind-breaks "is greater and keener in many localities than ever before."

Blinding dust storms in many of the plains states have emphasized the need for more trees.

The Abilene, Tex., Reporter-News says its area is undergoing the most prolonged drought in 30 years. The four-year rain deficiency since 1944 is almost as great as a normal year's fall of 25.17 inches.

Harry Holt, the Reporter-News' farm editor, says that other parts of the Southwest are even drier. Irrigation projects have failed. Farmers had a difficult time planting wheat in west Texas. The drought has forced livestock off some ranges until only half the normal number remain.

Farmers Dread Storms

Large sections have been swept by roaring, choking sandstorms. Farmers and city people alike dread them. They are an awesome phenomenon. When sandstorms become prolonged and severe, a "dust bowl" develops.

Some farmers hope the trees are insurance against this "dust bowl" threat. They remember the '30's when whole sections were made as barren as the Sahara. Some want trees for wind-breaks to protect growing crops even when there's no threat of sandstorms. Some just want to look at trees.

The popular conception of the "shelterbelt project" as a wall of trees from Mexico to Canada was a product of imagination born in "dust bowl" days, says Merrill. No one in authority ever thought of the project that way.

The "windbreak" plan—a term preferred by conservation authorities—as part of a coordinated soil-conservation program has spread to the Rio Grande valley in Texas, northeastern Arkansas and the Gulf coast prairie region of Texas and Louisiana.

Plan Includes California

The plan has reached even to California, where citrus growers have established 2,000 miles of protective plantings for their orchards, and to Wisconsin, which has nearly 6,000 miles of such plantings.

No signs of a continuous shelterbelt have appeared across the nation. Tree planting has been a matter for individual farmers. In some cases, efforts have been made to place the program on a conservation district basis.

Generally the projects are a success, according to farmers.

But, in some areas, notably that around Lubbock, Tex., the program has been abandoned. Dry weather, insects and diseases have done away with most of the trees.

Talks with farmers and conservation men show that the program, while practical, has put more money in the farmer's pocket, but wind-breaks certainly are no cure-all.

Says Merrill: "The planting of tree wind-breaks is one practice of many used for control of wind erosion in localities to which they are adapted."

Publishers Say 'Crime Comics' Are for Adults

NEW YORK.—Controversy between the Detroit Police department, which recently banned "crime" comic books, five of which have since been banned by the Indianapolis police, and the publishers of these books rages with undiminished fury. Both sides are standing firm in their convictions.

Interviewed individually, these comic book publishers, without exception, claimed that their particular books were less objectionable than others banned. None denied that there are comic books that are "obscene," "inflammatory," "vulgar," "inartistic" or all four.

Several, basing their self-defense on "freedom of the press," declared that because their books dealt with "true" crimes they are harmless, that they are written for adults and that the publisher is not responsible for the welfare of children who happen to read his books.

Crime comic books, publishers said, have been brought out in quantity only in the last two years simply to satisfy the appetites of ex-GIs. "We do it by formula, not malice," one said bluntly. "A cop, a killer, a gun and a girl."

Cause of Investigation

Prosecutor James N. McNally of Detroit, interviewed by telephone, said that his comic book investigation began when the police were seeking to stop the sale of a toy gun used in fake hold-ups. "We found," he said, "that the manufacturer advertised in comic books. We began looking into 350 of these books and ended up banning the 36 our censor bureau found most objectionable. The two distributing companies handling them willingly agreed that these books would no longer be sold. We therefore plan no criminal action against the publishers."

The day after McNally's action, Mayor Al Feeney of Indianapolis banned 5 of 260 books his special investigator had rounded up. He received the promise of cooperation from local distributors.

One Asks for Hearing

"So far," Mr. McNally said, "only one publisher has asked for a hearing. That is the National Comics group, publishers of Gangbuster Comics, which is temporarily removed from the banned list pending a hearing. As for the public, we've had nothing but praise from hundreds of citizens all over the country."

In New York the American Civil Liberties union announced that it had communicated with Detroit's police commissioner, Harry S. Toy, objecting to "the police office setting itself up as censor and guardian of public morals."

"We're glad," Jack Liebowitz, of the National Comics group, which publishes 30 other books, said, "that something is being done to apprise those publishers who are not cognizant of their responsibility that things can't go on unchecked. But we feel that our book was mistakenly banned in Detroit as it is in Indianapolis, although we're willing to make changes."

John Byrne, editor of "Wings Comics," "Jumbo Comics" and "Fight Comics," which have been banned, felt that his books "represent in 1948 what Nick Carter and Tom Swift used to represent," but added, "We don't edit our magazines for children."

Two Texas Youths Draw Pay For Staying Away From Home

JAMESTOWN, N. Y.—A couple of Texas youths with an eye for a fast buck and a yen for a novel holiday were first in line for the jugglers' national convention.

The Kosanke brothers, Les, 16, and Steve, 14, of Dallas, are collecting a dollar a day each for just sitting around.

"Uncle Al said we didn't have the nerve to leave home on our own," said Les. "He'll pay us a dollar a day for every day we make good."

Uncle Al is Alfred W. Kosanke of Hammond, Ind. All the boys have to do is send him a postcard every day proving they're not in Dallas.

Les, an amateur juggler, is spending the week practicing up for the convention.

Steve came along for the "pay-off."

Navy Helicopter Captures Antarctic Penguins for Zoo

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—A technique for capturing Antarctic penguins that involves a helicopter and football tactics was described by a bird curator.

Malcolm Davis of the national zoological park in Washington told of a recent navy expedition to collect live penguins for the zoo. It was the first time a helicopter had been used to hunt the large birds, he said in a General Electric science forum broadcast.

"The pilot would fly his whirling aircraft close to the penguins and the big birds would head inland," Davis said. "The pilot then would land the plane and the two-man crew would tackle the birds. It offered a chance for some rough-and-tumble fun."

Political Battle Will Be Bitter; GOP Is Hungry

The political battles will be bitter this year, with no quarter given. A Republican party which has been on the outside for 16 years is as unified as it ever has been in its history. Mr. Truman, despite the obvious aura of pessimism that pervades his party, seems honestly convinced that he can win, and is obviously determined to seize upon every opportunity in an unfavorable light. Some analysts think that his stock has risen substantially since his Western tour, a fact which may also be of service to the Republicans, by cutting down the spirit of over-confidence which has made many feel that the election is in the bag.

From certain points of view, the Progressive Party convention was the most interesting—and certainly it was the most remarkable. It was apparently designed to combine the best features of a crusade and a carnival. When vice-presidential candidate Taylor and his family crooned before the microphones, something new in the way of precedents must have been established. And, while the Republican and Democratic platforms certainly went out on a long limb in an attempt to offer as much as possible to everyone, the Progressives put them in the shade. Their platform assures world peace, promises socialization of basic industry even as it endorses "progressive" capitalism, pledges the immediate elimination of any and all injustices to minority groups, and so forth. It was the longest and wordiest of the three platforms and by far the most inclusive. It was, however, pretty vague as to just how its objectives are to be reached, and at what cost to taxpayers.

It would be folly to deny the fact that Mr. Wallace has many sincere and impassioned supporters. Other people are amused, and still others are revolted. It is perfectly possible that the ticket will receive between 5,000,000 and 10,000,000 votes this fall. In any case, Mr. Wallace will make an aggressive and highly vocal campaign, and he will capture a great deal of newspaper space both here and abroad.

The problem is this: The Progressive Party is unquestionably backed to the hilt by the American communists and their fellow travelers. Correspondent after correspondent, including some of the least hysterical and most respected observers of world affairs, have said that, Norman Thomas, the socialist leader who, incidentally, did an exceptionally interesting job in reporting all three conventions for a press service—has charged categorically that the Communists have obtained control of the party's policy committees, and Mr. Thomas can hardly be described as a reactionary who sees a red around every corner. However, Mr. Thomas is a classical socialist who believes fervently in civil liberties and democratic processes, and he hates the Communists and all their works. He, like Dorothy Thompson and others, thinks Mr. Wallace may do a great harm to American prestige by his policy of appeasing Russia.

Mr. Wallace had a simple answer to the Berlin crisis—he would simply do what the Kremlin wants and withdraw from the city. He said nothing about what this might do to the morale of the small states which have aligned themselves with the West—and nothing about what might happen to legions of Germans who have cooperated with us in the administration of our interests in Germany.

Equally important, say those who fear the Progressives may undermine our present bi-partisan foreign policy, is the fact that the party's platform did not say a single, solitary word in opposition to Soviet aggression. Even a very mildly worded plank, which would have put a little of the blame for current world troubles on Russia, was defeated. By contrast, this country was blamed for practically everything that is going on. If the Progressives are to be believed, we are wild imperialists, while the Russians, it seems, are reasonable men whose only wish is a just peace.

This attitude, naturally, is being given a terrific play in the Russian press. The Kremlin's objective is to make Europe believe that neither the Republicans nor the Democrats represent true American feeling when it comes to foreign affairs, and that Mr. Wallace's stand has overwhelming public backing. President Truman and Governor Dewey

Demand For Oil Increases Uses in All Fields

The Christian Science Monitor recently ran an editorial on the oil problem, in which it said, "What is wrong certainly is not that oil output is lagging. The immediate problem is that demand is climbing faster than supply. For instance, oil space heaters in use have more than doubled since 1941. There are almost half again as many oil burners, more than half again as many tractors, and over four times the number of Diesel locomotives. Obviously, demand must be checked until supply can get well ahead again."

The Monitor then cited a spokesman for the oil industry who believes that coal and natural gas must take up any further increase in the heating load.

What this all amounts to is that oil can't be expected to heat the entire country. The industry hasn't left a stone unturned in its efforts to spur production. It has managed to bring output to a level well beyond what was generally believed to be possible. It has done a fine job in allocating the supply of oil between the different centers of demand. Yet, in spite of all this, our insatiable appetite for oil, plus increasing military demands, has made a continued "tight" situation unavoidable.

Great hopes are held out for development of offshore oil resources—but this will take time. The Middle East is another potential source of large supplies—but here the international scene poses special difficulties. The only intelligent course is for the nation to use other forms are tarred with the same brush, and Mr. Wallace is always presented as a hero.

It remains to be seen how much capital the Russian leaders can make of that, and how much damage, if any, the Progressive Party will do to American standing. But it is a topic of very real importance today.

On the major party side, nothing new has been added. Mr. Truman's speech to the special session of Congress followed his past statements. It has long been obvious that price control will be his biggest domestic issue, and the speech laid heaviest emphasis on that. The Republicans, as was to be expected, threw the blame for inflation back into the White House lap. The whole matter will be hammered around in an infinity of detail when the candidates and their seconds take to the country with their appeals for votes.

Meat Money Is Spread Over a Large Sector

When a meat packer takes in a dollar, what happens to it?
The answer to that question will probably come as a surprise to a good many consumers. As anyone can guess, part of the revenue goes to livestock producers, part for the expenses of carrying on the packing business, and a part is retained as profit earned for performing an essential service and for necessary improvement and expansion of facilities. But, in all likelihood, relatively few people have an accurate idea of how that dollar is divided.
Here, then, is how it is spent, on the average: The farmer receives 79½ cents for livestock, etc. Nineteen cents is used to meet the payroll and other expenses. That means that only 1½ cents out of each dollar of sales—or a fraction of a cent per pound on the selling price of meat—is kept as profit.

That is certainly a modest wage for an industry which provides the farmers of this country with a daily cash market for all classes of livestock and keeps the meat supply flowing into all the consuming centers from villages to metropolises. Fresh meat is perishable. Most of it must be sold within a short time, and for whatever price it will bring. That price is established by the old law of supply and demand. It isn't fixed by the farmers, the packers, or any group except the 145,000,000 American consumers and their collective demand for the supply of meat available.
This country's appetite for meat is steadily growing. We must have a constantly expanding livestock industry. The packers' job is to work with the farmer to make that possible.

A visiting bishop, delivering an address on the evening of his arrival, told several anecdotes that he planned to repeat at a luncheon the next day, so he asked the newspapermen not to publish them. As a result, a cub reporter ended his article with this sentence:
"The bishop also told a number of stories that cannot be published."

Baucom Visitor On WT Campus

Ivan Baucom, principal of the Gregory, Texas, High School and a former student of WT, was a visitor on the campus last week.
Baucom boasts he holds three degrees from WT. He graduated here when the institution was a subnormal college, when it was a junior college and then when it became a senior college in 1918.
Lewis Hill, superintendent of the Pollettee High School, and Baucom renewed an old acquaintanceship, meeting here for the first time in years. Hill, a former basketball great in WT, was a pupil of Baucom's in high school.
Don Baucom, Ivan's brother and a Corpus Christi businessman, and his wife, the former Clarice Angel of Canyon, were also visitors last week at WT. Don Baucom had not seen the campus for 20 years, and he and Mrs. Baucom thoroughly enjoyed a tour personally conducted by Dr. J. A. Hill, president.

Fire Damages Vets Guidance Center

A fire damaged the Veterans Guidance Center, south of Cousins Hall, last Tuesday. The fire started with a burning mattress.
The Veterans Guidance Center has been moved to a barracks. The old building, the one which had the fire, was to have been moved last week to the Pueblo district.
The future home for the president of West Texas State College will be built on the former site of the Veterans Guidance when it is built.

Free Press Is Basis For Free Enterprise

A free press is made possible by advertising—a thousand and one different advertisements of industries seeking to sell their wares or services to the public.
From such a field in which to seek business the press of the United States can maintain its financial independence—the smallest country weekly or the greatest metropolitan daily has an equal chance.
Such financial independence means editorial independence. American newspapers are not creatures of government as in dictator countries where they are controlled and subsidized. They are not afraid to criticize government, public officials or business.

There can be no free press or individual opportunity without private enterprise.

Communism and socialism kill free enterprise and personal liberty because under such political systems government owns industry, including newspapers, and the individual.

American editors are against communism and socialism, first, because under such governmental philosophies destroy political freedom; second, because they destroy a free press.

Any successful move to socialize an industry in the United States, undermines by that much, personal liberty, the foundation of a free press, and the unrestricted opportunity of individuals to choose a line of work or an employer. Under socialism and communism you work for the state and like it, or else.

This is why individuals and newspapers wishing to retain their independence should oppose government ownership of business in our country, while they have a chance. Don't be lulled into a false sense of security by thinking it can't happen here.

Graduates Present $200 to Library

In a meeting last Tuesday, August 3, the Graduate Club voted unanimously to present $200 to the library of West Texas State.

This money is for the purpose of purchasing books at the graduate level for those eight departments of WT offering majors in graduate work.

W. R. Dawes is president of the Graduate Club.
